Café Atlantico Classics

South American wines have always been the foundation and feature of our wine list here at Café Atlantico. As we look back we invite you to celebrate with us these wines and producers who have been such a big part of our story over the last 20 years. Salud!

Catena

Nicolas Catena, founder of the Catena Winery moved his family to Argentina from Italy in 1898 looking for new land to create their dream winery and planted their first Malbec vines in 1902. His son, Domingo Catena later took over the winery over and turned it into one of the largest vineyard sites in Mendoza at the time. However, it wasn't until current winemaker Nicolás Catena, son of Domingo, took the reins in the 1960s that the success of Catena wines really took off. After spending some time in California teaching and gaining inspiration from Napa Valley vintners, Nicolás returned to Argentina with a renewed approach to viticulture and winemaking. After the death of Domingo, in 1989, Nicolás channelled his sadness into creating the perfect Malbec, a wine his father believed was possible and in 1994 Nicolás Catena released the first vintage of Catena Malbec. Now, more than seventeen years later, Catena Family Wines are some of the best in the world.
Help us celebrate wines that are near and dear to the hearts of the Café Atlantico family and Decanter's 2009 Wine Maker of the Year, Nicolás Catena!

Viña Errázuriz

Vina Errazuria was founded the Valle de Aconcagua of Chile in 1870 by Don Maximiano Errazuriz. He believed that the cool, rainy winters and hot dry summers would be an ideal place for planting vines. Now, five generations later, lead by Eduardo Chadwick, Don Maximiano's great-great grandson, the Errázuriz wines are some of the most celebrated wines in all of Chile. Their philosophy, expressed by Don Maximiano himself hundreds of years ago, "From the best land, the best wine" and we completely agree.

Cousiño-Macul

Since 1564 the area of Macul has been a site for grape cultivation, started by Spanish conquistador Juan Jufré at the Hacienda Macul. In 1856 the Hacienda was purchased by Matías Cousiño whose unexpected death in 1863 left the estate in the hands of his son Luis. Luis promptly traveled to Bordeaux to learn winemaking and thus fulfill his father's dream of producing fine wines. Luis brought back to Chile vine cuttings from Pauillac and Margaux. Tragically, Luis would die at the age of thirty eight, so it was his wife Isidora, alongside French winemaker Pierre Durand, who finally realized Matias' vision. The sixth generation of the family is now at the helm of the Cousino Estate their wines are known around the wine community as "The First Growth of Chile."
